

Invitation to apply for an Assignment

The National Education Commission requires the services of a person for preparing the draft of the national policy recommendations for General Education on the basis of the findings and opinions of the NEC. A substantial amount of data and information has been collected over the past few months to be utilized in performing this activity. The draft document would be in English.

The applicant should possess at least a Master's degree with experience in the field of education as an administrator, director, manager, lecturer, teacher or consultant.

Ability to gather, select, interpret and synthesize data and information pertaining to education, system planning and human development is expected.

The duration of the assignment would be 2 ½ months. The successful applicant would be paid a fee in conformity with pertinent government circulars and codes, etc.

Those interested should apply by email to: Chairman, National Education Commission, chnec@slt.lk.

Please attach a recent CV and other evidence of your capability to undertake this assignment.